A "WALSH" Suit is the very best you can locate in, but the point is that no suit is TOO GOOD for a GOOD MAN.

More Red Recruits Are Rounded Up For Voyage on Second Soviet Ark

Anarchists captured in New England being placed aboard a train at Hartford, Conn.

While one shipload of anarchists, including such notorious reds as Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, is on its way to Soviet Russia, another cargo is being collected. "Down with the government" was the cry of these Bolshevik sympathizers as they were being rounded up in New York to await the departure of the second Soviet Ark.

COMMITTEE FROM C. OF C. WILL AID IN HOTEL PLANS

For the first time in the history of that organization, the Chamber of Commerce will assist in the sale of stock in a private enterprise. This, however, is an enterprise in which the entire city is vitally interested, the erection of another modern hotel, in order to relieve the need for more hotel accommodation of the first class and to secure these additional facilities as speedily as possible.

Progress in the preliminary work of arranging for the building of a modern 100-room hotel on the site of the old Arlington is being made.

The Chamber of Commerce, by a resolution unanimously passed by the board of directors, pledged the support of the chamber to the preliminary work, including assistance in the sale of such amounts of stock as will be offered to the public. In order to carry out this work in co-operation with the gentlemen who have chartered the Tri-State Hotel Building company, the chamber has named five members to serve with officers of the hotel company on its executive committee during the preliminary work of organization.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce on the executive board are H. B. Chears, chairman of the convention section and president of the Chears Floor and Screen company; J. E. E. George, who was chairman of the special subcommittee on hotels, which investigated the plan for the new hotel, and communicated with a number of hotel companies in other cities; E. M. Ford, of the Memphis street railway; H. M. Mogenssen, lumber manufacturer, and T. B. Hooker.

Options Secured.
John T. Walsh, president of the North Memphis Savings bank and also of the hotel building company, is chairman of the executive committee. Other members are J. D. Block, vice-president, Joseph A. Hele, C. C. Reed and Henry Craft.

Probably not more than $500,000 of stock will be offered for sale. Present plans contemplate an issue of about $100,000 in stock and the remainder of the million and a half, which is estimated the hotel will cost, will be secured through a mortgage issue.

None of the officers of the company is to draw any salary, and there is to be no bonus paid in connection with the sale of stock and other expenses except the legitimate expenses connected with the preliminary organization, necessary advertising, etc.

Option upon the property to be bought for the site includes the present Arlington hotel and a 24-foot lot adjoining to the south, giving a plot of ground 103 feet front on Main and Adams with a depth of 160 feet to an alley.

Contracts for leasing the hotel to an operating company have already been signed, under which, in addition to providing a sinking fund for the retirement of the bonds and the payment of all expenses, such as taxes and insurance, the stockholders will be guaranteed 6 percent on their investment for a 25-year period.

LEGION INDORSES VETERANS' SCHOOL

Knights of Columbus Plan Approved—Others Discouraged—Dues Raised

Unanimous indorsement of the proposal of Memphis council No. 615, Knights of Columbus, to establish a free school for ex-service men, was given Thursday night at a regular meeting of Memphis post No. 1, American Legion. In indorsing the Knights of Columbus school, the local post went on record as encouraging the establishment of similar schools by any other organization.

The meeting was well attended and John Demick, who is organizing the Knights of Columbus free night school in Memphis, explained in detail the plan of the school, including the courses of study and the positions to be given the graduates of the school to those who finish in the radio telegraphy and Spanish courses. Mr. Demick extended a cordial invitation to every man who was formerly a soldier, sailor or marine to enroll for any or all of the courses offered by the school.

Mr. Demick was accorded the privilege of obtaining the roster of Memphis post of the legion in order that a personal letter might be sent to every member urging his enrollment in the free night school. The fullest co-operation on the part of the members of the legion was pledged to the school and the organization of any similar school in Memphis was to be discouraged by the legion members.

The regret of the local post upon the departure from Memphis of W. H. Robb, honorary member and organizer for the War Camp Community service, was appropriately expressed. Mr. Robb left Memphis Thursday night for Fort Worth, Texas, where he will engage in similar work for the War Camp Community service. Efforts are being made to have Mr. Robb returned to this city as his work in organizing the community service has made him very popular with former service men.

The constitution and by-laws of the post were changed to conform with the state and national constitutions. Included in this change was the election of the executive committee from 7 to 11 members and change of the title of post officers to commander, vice-commander, adjutant and finance officer. The dues of the local post also were increased to $6 per year.

Wiggs-Darnell Suit Is Under Advisement

Argument in the bill filed by R. J. Wiggs, former president of the Darnell-Love Lumber company, in which Mr. Wiggs seeks to have rescinded the sale by him of 800 shares of stock in the company to the concern was completed late Thursday and Chancellor Yerkes took the case under advisement. Briefs in the case will be submitted.

Mr. Wiggs claims that the company forced him to sell his stock in the concern by duress and coercion. He says that his physician advised him to leave the concern because of his ailment as tuberculosis. Upon this advice, he declared, he went to the head office of the company at Leland, Miss., and told S. T. Turner, vice-president of the company, of his plans and Mr. Turner warned him that if he left he would not be re-elected president of the corporation, that he would be paid no salary during his absence and no dividend would be declared on his stock. The 800 shares he said were worth approximately $240,000, or two and one-half or three for one, but he was forced to sell to the company for $150,000.

Wiggs also claims that the concern was chartered in the state of Tennessee and that the purchase of stock by a Tennessee corporation by itself is void. He contends that being a member of the firm and as the firm bought his stock, the transaction is illegal and void under the law.

G. T. Putshugh and W. F. Murrah are attorneys for Mr. Wiggs and H. H. Hon, George Percy and others of Greenville and Burch & Minor of Memphis are representing the company.

The chancellor's decision in the case probably will be announced next week.

Born in 1839 Dr. Caldwell Still in His Office Daily

Wonderful vigor of the founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Millions now use his famous prescription

Physicians know that good health depends largely upon proper digestion and elimination and that much sickness results from constipation. No one knows this better than the "family" doctor, the general practitioner.

Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monticello, Illinois, was and is a family doctor. The whole human body, not any small part of it, was his practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, hiccups—and all of these required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

Dr. Caldwell in the course of 40 years' practice, for he was graduated from Rush Medical College in 1875, had found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year the preparation was first placed on the market. The picture of Dr. Caldwell that appears on the package was taken in that year.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in the doctor's private practice. Today the third generation is using it.

Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it, for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is selling at the rate of over 6 million bottles a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Syrup Pepsin, and the formula of that prescription is fortunately living to see its wonderful success.

Women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. While it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases, it is mild and gentle in its action and does not cause griping and strain. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby and children like it and take it willingly.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home. Where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

Alex Boggiano Prospector Back With Big Visions

Alex Boggiano, prospector for gold, copper, silver, antimony and other minerals, who has a mine claim in the vicinity of Carrizozo, N. M., is recuperating at his home, following the most strenuous prospecting trip in the annals of the latter-day treasure hunters.

Alex, who was wont for some score of years to shove wings, or stage pieces, about the back streets of Carrizozo, and to work with one hand that it later took two to do with both, now is almost a physical wreck. He staggered in at the Orpheum stage door, shoving a sack of ore to Dave Rosenthal and told him to keep it. The sack bore sample of Boggiano's mine located near Carrizozo. As yet expert analysis has not disclosed just what Alex mined during his week's stay in the southwest.

Long a fan of the thoroughbred, Alex did a springing stunt on his way to New Mexico, according to some of his friends, beat a burst of speed ever shown by a bangtail. Laws of New Mexico say that a prospector in order to hold his claim must take his meals and work his mine at least once a week. On his way West Alex was delayed at Amarillo, Tex., reaching Carrizozo on the last day of the year, Alex, so the story goes, rushed

CHARACTER BUILDERS HAUL PROSPECT IN RED WAGON

How would you like to be hauled two miles to Sunday school in a little red wagon, pulled through the city streets by three big, strong men?

That is the way J. L. Weeks, of the Illinois Central freight office, was taken to the Character Builders' Bible class last Sunday morning, as the accompanying pictures bears witness. But the picture does not show just how cold it was—something like 10 below freezing.

Weeks said he wouldn't go, unless transported from his home to the class by manual effort on the part of members of the class. The fact was he didn't want to go to the Sunday school at all, or thought he did not, so he believed that he was perfectly safe in agreeing to go under the conditions named, reflecting that his home on Harbord avenue was fully 200 miles from the Madison Heights Methodist church, where the class meets.
